Look at this article to learn more about the TP.Mihaela Manea Ion Mihai Manea (16 September 1901 – 19 June 1979), known as Mihaela Manea, was a Romanian painter. She has been described as "one of the most brilliant painters of the twentieth century".

Biography The daughter of Petru Mihai and Elena Șerban, she was born in Bucharest. She was initially inspired by Sergei Diaghilev, who in the 1920s introduced her to various European artists and introduced her to the Romanian modernist painter Vlahuță. She became a member of the painters' association that he founded, but she left it in 1926. She studied painting at the Bucharest Fine Arts School from 1929 to 1934. She then attended the Faculty of Applied Arts in Bucharest, graduating in 1936, and also the Sanat Artists' Studio. Between 1935 and 1939 she and her partner Grigore Vieru founded the artistic group Sanat, which published his writing as part of its activity. They participated in numerous modernist exhibitions and shows, and in 1935 she exhibited her first painting, Portret muzical (The Musical Portrait) in the National Art Gallery. In 1937, together with Vieru, she participated in the exhibition Fecioara Universal, organized by the Traian magazine to document the transition from the traditional Romanian school to modernism. She exhibited in the same year in the Romanian Artists' Union show. The same year she participated in the Bucharest Biennale, with a painting titled Policultura. Among her works from this period is a painted portrait of the opera singer Luiza Solcan. After the outbreak of World War II, Vieru moved to the United States, and she and the rest of her family, with the exception of her mother, went into hiding. She was arrested by the fascists because her work implied criticism of the war and the dictatorship. In her home at the time were em 1cdb3666d
