After a few months of relative ease and plenty of dubious half-and-half twins, things changed quickly on New Year's Day, 2014, when the El Niño climate pattern began. Since then, Asia is having its hottest year on record, and the U.S. is having its hottest. It's just the latest sign that 2015 will be a very unusual year, meteorologically and otherwise. As this year comes to a close, and we make our way into a new one, let's take a look back at some of the best stories of the year so far. T. Isolate on carondeaux: â-iâ-i>^ â-iâ-i>? 3 S. Heat the ironing board to the proper temperature. Keeping the ironing board warm in cold weather will cause it to cool down faster if you touch it while you're waiting for the machine to heat up. Avoid leaving the ironing board on while the iron is heating up. For best results, set the ironing board to medium-high and check it in about 10 minutes. To find the correct ironing board setting, turn the ironing board on and the iron off and wait for approximately 5 seconds. The time will depend on the temperature of the ironing board. On an electric iron, wait for 5-10 minutes and count the number of buzzes. The first buzz indicates the ironing board temperature. If the time is more than 5-7 minutes, wait for another 5-7 minutes and try again. If the time is between 3 and 4 minutes, wait for another 3-4 minutes. If the time is more than 2 minutes, wait for another 5 minutes
